

Dr. Jingjing Ye, BeiGene

Dr. Jingjing Ye is an executive director and currently leads a global team, Data Science and Digital Innovations (DSDI), with Global Statistics and Data Sciences (GSDS) in BeiGene. She has over 17 years' experience in pharmaceutical industry and US FDA, with focus in cancer drug discovery and development. Her statistical and regulatory experience expands full spectrum on patients' treatment journey from diagnosis, treatment, to living with the condition. She is very active in statistical communities in US and between US and China DIA communities, including leading several cross-disciplinary and cross-company working groups. She received her PhD degree in statistics from University of California, Davis and BS in applied mathematics from Peking University.